RE: JAMES FROME
CECIL B. DE MILLE - Victim
EXTORTION
L.A. File #9-217

Dear Sir:

On September 24, 1937 there were turned over to the Los Angeles Division two letters which had been addressed to Mr. Cecil B. De Mille, both dated September 14, 1937 and signed by one JAMES FROME, General Delivery, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

According to Miss Florence Cole, secretary to Mr. Cecil B. De Mille, Producer and President of the ~~Cecil B. De Mille Productions~~, these letters had been received by Miss Gladys Rosson, personal secretary to Mr. De Mille at his home, 2010 De Mille Drive, Hollywood, California, and were referred to Miss Cole for the attention of Mr. De Mille. Miss Cole explained that all mail addressed to Mr. De Mille merely mentioning the address as Hollywood, California, as occurred in this instance, is usually delivered by the Hollywood Post Office to the box of Mr. De Mille rather than forwarded directly to the Paramount Studio where the De Mille Productions are made.

Miss Cole stated that in view of the large amount of correspondence received by Mr. De Mille, Miss Rosson, after opening the envelopes and taking out the letters, had immediately destroyed the envelopes, for which reason they were not available for turning over to the Bureau. It is noted in this respect that the personal secretary, at the time the letters are opened, does not read the contents but merely notes as to whether the name and address of the correspondent appears thereon, in which event the envelopes are destroyed.

RECORDED & INDEXED

MG-3091-1

According to Miss Cole, the letters were received at the home of Mr. De Mille on either the 15th or 16th of September, Miss Rosson being unable to definitely state which day, in view of the fact that the correspondence received by her is so voluminous.

J. K. H.

Director, F.B.I.

Miss Cole advised, however, that after the contents had been read and furnished to Mr. De Mille, the letters were called to the attention of Miss Rosson who advised that she remembers receiving and opening the letters and definitely recalls having seen the sentences appearing therein to the effect that the writer desired a loan from Mr. De Mille. The letters to De Mille, which are written on plain tablet paper with blue lines and dated at Albuquerque, New Mexico, September 14, 1937, the contents of which letters are being set forth hereinafter, were apparently enclosed in envelopes addressed to Mr. Cecil B. De Mille, Hollywood, Calif.

Please excuse me Mr. De Mille. I don't mean to do this. I'm a great admirer of yours on Lux Radio programs. But I need $300.00 and have got to have it right away. I am asking this as a loan but if not a loan I'm going to get it other wise. So dont fail me or there might be something serious might happen to either you or your wife Dolores Cassello.

"This is the first and last and only warning you get. Im no threatening you by I mean business and dont fail me so put a check for $300.00 in the mail to be del. to me at Santa Fe N. M. and dont say anything about it to the police. Because I dont want any publicity about it."

The original of the above letters, which have been placed in cellophane envelopes, are being forwarded in an appropriate mailing tube, Air Mail, to the Bureau with the request that the technical laboratory make an appropriate study of the type of paper used and appropriately process same for any latent fingerprints that may appear thereon. In this respect it might be noted that instant letter is known to have been handled by the following individuals:

Miss Gladys Weston, personal secretary to Cecil B. De Mille.
Miss Florence Cole, secretary to Cecil B. De Mille, at Paramount Studio.
Miss Dorothy Grivatz, secretary to Mr. Pine, assistant to Cecil B. De Mille.
Mr. Cecil B. De Mille.
Mr. Harry Cottrell, head of the Still Department, Paramount Studio.
Arthur Daiker, personal valet to Cecil B. De Mille.
Inspector G. D. Lowe, Post Office Department.

September 25, 1937

The fingerprint impressions of Miss Grivats, Miss Cole and Mr. Cottrell are being forwarded herewith for elimination purposes, it being noted that the fingerprint impressions of Inspector Lowe are presently on file in the Personal Identification section of the Identification Division of the Bureau. An effort will be made within the next few days to obtain the fingerprint impressions of the remaining individuals known to have handled this letter for transmission to the Bureau so that same may be used for elimination purposes.

The substance of the above information with reference to these extortion letters was immediately furnished by teletype to the Bureau and the El Paso office with the request that the El Paso office conduct appropriate investigation at Santa Fe, New Mexico, with a view of apprehending the writer of these letters. For the assistance of the El Paso Division, a photostatic copy of these letters, which was taken in the Los Angeles office, is being forwarded herewith, it being noted that the original letters were written in pencil.

It is requested that the technical laboratory, upon completion of their examination of these letters, advise the El Paso and Los Angeles offices of the results thereof and likewise furnish to each of these offices, photographic copies of the original extortion letters.

Very truly yours,

J. H. HANSON,
Special Agent in Charge.

RE: JAMES FRANK; Cecil B.
De Mille - Victim
ELSTON W.

Dear Sirs:

Reference is made to your letter of September 25, 1937, transmitting two extortion letters beginning "Please excuse Me..." and "I don't know...", respectively, together with the fingerprints of Dorothy Grimes, Florence A. Cole and Harry Cottrell, for elimination purposes, in connection with the above-entitled case.

We are advised that the letters submitted have been examined, and one latent fingerprint, of value for comparison purposes, was developed on the first page of the letter beginning "Please excuse Me...". This impression was compared with the fingerprints submitted for elimination purposes and with those of C. D. Lane, previously submitted for purposes of elimination by your office, without effecting an identification.

In an effort to identify the latent print developed, a search was conducted through the alphabetical name file of the Bureau's Identification Division upon the basis of the name "James Frank." Although no record was disclosed for that name, the fingerprints of one John Stewart, alias John Frank, #311-2746, were located and compared with the latent impression with negative results. For your information and possible assistance there is enclosed a transcript of the prior criminal record of Stewart. A copy of this transcript is also being forwarded to the El Paso Field Office.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover,
Director.

Dear Sir:

There is forwarded herewith signed statement of subject Merritt, in his own handwriting, for comparison of the handwriting therein with that appearing in the original extortion notes in this case.

The Los Angeles Division is being furnished a copy of this letter, and is requested to forward to the Bureau the original extortion notes referred to above.

Although the subject admits in his signed statement that he wrote and mailed these extortion letters, it is felt this comparison should be made in view of the possibility that at a subsequent date subject might refute his original statement.

RECORDED 9-3091-5
S
EX-74-11
661/3 1937 AM
RME

The facts developed by this investigation were given by telephone to Special Agent in Charge Colvin at Albuquerque, N. M., who discussed same with United States Attorney Everett M. Grantham, who authorized the filing of a complaint. Such complaint was filed before U. S. Commissioner Sam Jatzo by Special Agent in Charge R. H. Colvin charging violation of Section 338-A, Title 18, U. S. C. A. As noted, United States Attorney Grantham advised that Agent's presence would not be necessary at the hearing, the results of same have not yet been determined. Newspapers reflect that subject entered a plea of guilty and was placed under bond in the amount of $10,000, to await action by the Grand Jury. This information will be verified.

Copy of subject Merritt's statement is being forwarded to the Bureau under separate cover for comparison of the handwriting therein with the handwriting appearing on the original extortion letters to victim De Nille. The Los Angeles office is being requested to forward these original copies to the Bureau in order that such comparison may be made.

UNDEVELOPED LEADS:

The EL PASO Division, will follow and report further prosecutive action; will report the results of hearing before U. S. Commissioner Sam Jatzo.

P E N D I N G

Subject fully realizes the mistake he has made and int'ns to enter a plea of guilty when arraigned on the matter before the U. S. Commissioner, and also later before Federal Judge. He stated he intends to ask the merit of the court as he has a wife and four children to support who have no means of livelihood while he is being detained.

Merritt was exhibited the photographic copy of the letters received by victim De Mille, which had been furnished by the Los Angeles office, and immediately stated that these were copies of the letters which had been written and mailed by him to Mr. De Mille. In regard to the name James Frome, which was used by subject Merritt, he advised that this name had just occurred to him, that he did not know anyone by this name, and that he had never used it before.

The following personal information was obtained by Agent from subject Merritt during this interview:

His father is James E. Merritt, residing in Oklahoma City, Okla., at an unknown address. His mother is deceased. He has two brothers, T. E. Merritt of 6207 Elmhurst Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and T. K. Merritt, who lives at an unknown address in the state of Arizona. His wife's name is Verda Merritt, residing with their four children at 403 S. 9th St., Albuquerque, New Mexico. His children are Roma Lee, age 15, Don E., age 14, Edwin Bruce, age 7 and Carolyn, age 5. He attained the sixth grade in grade schools. He is presently working as a candy salesman on a commission basis, selling Tom Houston Peanut Products for John B. Orring of Albuquerque, New Mexico. He has been working in this capacity for the past 10 years. He had lived in Albuquerque about three years, and operated a small cafe business the first year he was in Albuquerque. He has also worked for P. E. Hudson at Oshkosh, Oklahoma, as a laundry wagon driver for a period of four years. During the world war he enlisted in the U. S. Navy at St. Louis, Mo., and was discharged at the Great Lakes Station on December 31, 1918. He stated he had never been arrested before with the exception of once or twice for drunkenness, and stated he had never been in any trouble before.

The following description was obtained from personal interview and observation:

"I called at the Gen. Del. Window for a letter addressed to James Fronc, and was handed a large size light brown envelope. I noticed that the envelope had some thing about De Mille in the left hand upper corner of the envelope. At the time I called for and received this letter I was accompanied by the Associated press reporter whose name I believe to be Harris or Harrison, this reporter was also with me when I opened this letter. The letter ~~actually~~ contained only blank pieces of paper. I then walked back into the Post office with the reporter and told the post office officials I desired to give myself up. Mr. Tom Delgado, Chief of police was called and I was placed under arrest.

"I am a married man and have a wife and four children who live at 403 So. 9th, Albuquerque, N.M., my wife's name is Verda.

"I still realize that I have done wrong in writing these letters to Mr. De Mille, and intend to enter a plea of guilty when arraigned on this matter in court."

"I intended to make amends for the wrong done by giving myself up, and confessing my guilt.

Witnessed:
E. C. DOWKS
Special Agent, F.B.I.
Dept. of Justice, El Paso, Tex.

Merritt stated he had written these letters when he was very drunk and did not realize what he was doing; that he had written one letter while sitting in his truck and had taken same immediately to the Post Office to mail, and while there had written the second letter, mailing both letters at the same time. He believes one of them was air mailed. He then returned to Santa Fe on September 28, 1937, and had again begun drinking and brooding over the fact that he had been foolish enough to write these letters, as he realized he would certainly be caught. He stated he realized that his fingerprints were on file in the Law Department, and that his fingerprints would undoubtedly be found on the exhibition letters to Mr. De Mille, and that it would be a very simple matter to catch him.

Merritt assured Agent that he had not written to Mr. De Mille, as threatened in the letter, and that he fully expected to be arrested. At the time he called for the letter at the post office in Santa Fe he was passed to James Fronc, and had been greatly shocked when handed this letter and in the last appearance to arrest him. He stated he had then walked outside the post office, joined the letter and noted that it contained blank pieces of paper, and then had requested the Associated Press reporter to accompany him to contact the post office officials, advising him he wished to surrender himself.

acquiescent w James Fronc. At this time Agent was instructed by Special Agent in Charge in order to return to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to attend to other expeditious matters. As it appeared that no one was going to call for the dummy letter. At the time agent departed from the post office at Santa Fe, instructions were given the postoffice employees, who in turn directed their clerks at the General Delivery Window, that in the event anyone called for the letter addressed to James Fronc this party should be closely observed and full and complete description obtained, also that he be followed out into the street and observed in the event he got into any automobile or other conveyance, and full descriptive data obtained of any such vehicle.

On the afternoon of Sept. 28, 1937, Postmaster A. F. Martinez of Santa Fe, N. M., called Agent at Albuquerque, N. M., and reported that a person named Herman Merritt had called for the letter addressed to James Fronc and had surrendered to the postoffice officials. At the time Merritt called for the above letter, he was accompanied by a reporter from the Associated Press, and had already given the story to this reporter.

The writer immediately returned to Santa Fe, New Mexico where subject Merritt was interviewed in the Santa Fe County Jail, where he had been placed by Chief of Police Tom Dolgado, who had been summoned by the Post Office officials after Merritt had surrendered. Merritt furnished the following written statement to Agent, in his own handwriting:

"Santa Fe, N.M.
Sept. 28th, 1937

"I Roman Merritt, make the following statement voluntarily to E. C. Lorris, who I know to be a special agent United States Dept. of Justice. I have been warned and fully understand that I do not have to make any statement and go further, that this statement may be used against me in any court of law.

"On Sept. 14th, 1937 while in Santa Fe N.M. I suddenly decided I would write a letter to Mr. Cecil B. DeMille at Los Angeles, Calif. At the time I reached this conclusion I was in an intoxicated condition and was sitting in my truck parked on the street near the Plaza in Santa Fe. I also wrote an other letter at this time to Mr. DeMille and this letter was written in the Post office lobby. Both letters were also mailed at this time at the Post Office in Santa Fe. I am now of the opinion one of them was air mailed.

"I do not know what caused me to write these letters, but realized after I had sobered up that I had done wrong. I returned to Santa Fe on Sept. 28th, 1937 and called for the letter, I expected under the name of James Fronc as I had signed the letters to Mr. DeMille with the name James Fronc. Just before calling for the expected letter at the Gen. Del. window at Santa Fe, I called a reporter

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent E. C. Dorris dated at El Paso, Texas, October 5, 1937, concerning the above captioned case.

In view of the fact the title of this report is marked "changed", the first paragraph of the report should have contained an explanation as to the reason for changing the title.

From recent newspaper dispatches it is observed that Special Agent E. C. Dorris is alleged to have made statements to the press relative to this case, and from an Associated Press Dispatch appearing in the Washington Star of September 29, 1937, Special Agent Dorris is alleged to have stated that subject, in a signed statement, confessed he had written to the victim while "stuffed drunk".

Please advise relative to the publicity in this case.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover,
Director.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. NATHAN

Re: James Frome;
Cecil B. De Mille - Victim.
EXTORTION.

Under date of September 27, 1937, there was received for examination in the Laboratory and Single Fingerprint Sections two original extortion letters addressed to the victim in the above-entitled case, and signed James Frome. One fragmentary latent fingerprint was developed on the first page of the letter beginning "Please excuse me ...". Upon examination in the Single Fingerprint Section by Mr. A. T. Potter, this latent print was found to be not identical with the three sets of prints submitted by the Los Angeles Field Division for elimination purposes, and also with an additional set of prints for one individual named by that office, which prints were on file in the bureau.

In an effort to identify the latent impression a name search was conducted by Mr. R. J. Upton of the Single Fingerprint Section, in the absence of Mr. Potter, in the Card Index Section on the basis of the name "James Frome". No record was found for this name, but a John Frome was found bearing an arrest number at Dallas, Texas. (John Stewart, FBI-42786). The fingerprints of this person were not identical with the latent fingerprint.

The jacket for John Stewart, alias John Frome, was referred to Mr. Appel, laboratory examiner of the case, who, after a tentative examination, expressed the opinion that John Stewart, alias John Frome, FBI-42786, was probably identical with the writer of the extortion letters. The Laboratory is conducting a further examination.

A transcript of the criminal record of John Stewart, alias John Frome, is being forwarded to the Los Angeles Field Division, with a carbon copy to the El Paso Field Division. 9-3091-7

VETERAN HELD FOR EXTORTION

$300 Is Demanded From Movie Producer.

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 29.—(P)— Roman Merritt, chunky World war veteran and Albuquerque peanut salesman, leaned wearily against the bars of his jail here Wednesday night, and said he would plead guilty to attempted extortion of $300 from Cecil B. DeMille, Hollywood producer.

"I want to let this thing take its course now—get it over with," he said soberly, appearing emotionally exhausted after recurrent fits of sobbing following his arrest.

Plagued by conscience and fear of consequences, he sought out all Associated Press capital reporter Tuesday night to confess his action and to have himself turned over to department of justice representatives, who had been watching the Santa Fe post office for the claimant of a decoy letter from DeMille.

Merritt's wife, mother of six other children, came from Albuquerque late Wednesday to visit him in his cell.

Says He Was Drunk

"I was sober drunk when I did it and now I want to give myself up," the chunky bandit veteran sobbed to the newsmen.

"We'll take a walk. I'll call for the letter and they'll arrest me and it'll all be over with. I can't stand it any longer."

Between drinks at a bar, Merritt, father of four children, confided how he had written an extortion letter to the cinema executive.

"I was desperate for $300," he said. "I just had to have it. I had heard DeMille's name over the radio and two pictures, when I was so drunk I wouldn't think straight, I wrote the letter demanding that he send me $300 or else, I don't remember what else I said, but I told him to send it to James Fronc, general delivery, Santa Fe. They're bound to get me. I was in the camp and my finger prints are all round. I want to give myself up and get it over with. Well go to the post office now."

Merritt walked to the general delivery window and asked if there was mail for J. Fronc, General Delivery. Lorenzo Gutierrez asked him to repeat the name and handed him a long envelope bearing an airmail stamp and DeMille's return address.

It contained two blank sheets of DeMille stationery.

Then when no one appeared to accuse him, Merritt added that the newsmen found a Federal office Postmaster A. F. Martinez and his assistant P. R. Stephenson, summoned Police Chief Tom Delgado while Merritt sobbed out his confession in the postmaster's office. Delgado took custody of the prisoner and notified the Department of Justice at El Paso.

The letter was sent via a ruse to trap the confessed extortionist postal authorities said. Department of Justice Agent E. C. Morris of El Paso had until noon maintained a constant vigil at the post office waiting for the letter to be claimed.

"He only took eight minutes for lunch," a post office employee said.

Clerk Gets Gun

The general delivery clerk was instructed to obtain the description of the person claiming the letter. He left his window to follow Merritt and when he saw the newcomer believed he had two to deal with and returned for a revolver. In the meantime Merritt gave himself up to the postmaster.

Merritt was an employee of Tom's Peanut Co. of El Paso, by said, and he gave his address as 600 South Ninth Street.

PLOT SURRENDERS

Wife Cannot Understand Why Husband Wrote Letter

Mrs. Merritt Says He Must Have Been Drunk When He Mailed Money Demand to Movie Producer

"I can imagine no reason for my husband writing. He might have been drunk. That is the only explanation."

Thus Mrs. Roman Merritt commented late Tuesday night on the arrest of her husband in Santa Fe when he confessed to sending an extortion letter demanding $300 from Cecil B. DeMille, motion picture producer.

Mrs. Merritt, at her home, 44 South Ninth had retired confident in the supposition that her husband, a magician, merely was in Santa Fe on business and was expected to return Wednesday.

"My husband drinks once in a while, but there is nothing vicious about him," she said. "He must have been crazy drunk if he wrote such a letter."

"There is nothing in our home life that calls for an urgent need of money. My husband has steady work. He always had had steady work. He is known among all his friends and business associates as being a very honest man. I do not understand this trouble at all. I just can't understand how he could do such a thing," she said.

We checked on the name of Frome and could find no Frome in Albuquerque or Santa Fe. I told Dorris to watch the post office for a couple of days anyway, and when no one showed up, we figured it meant nothing and were ready to drop the case.

Merritt was to be brought to Albuquerque late Tuesday night, or Wednesday morning.

Reporter Accompanies Him To Postoffice Where He Gets "Benny" Letter

SANTA FE, Sept. 28 (UPI)—A man who said he was Roman Merritt, 39-year-old Albuquerque war veteran, surrendered to an Associated Press reporter here Tuesday with the statement he had attempted to extort $300 from Cecil B. DeMille, Hollywood motion picture producer. He was immediately turned over to police.

Late Tuesday night the prisoner said he had made a detailed statement for E. C. Dorris, Department of Justice operative, admitting writing two letters to DeMille demanding $300 under the threat of bodily harm.

Merritt said he was told he would be arraigned in United States Commissioner's Court here Wednesday.

Department of Justice men had maintained a vigil at the postoffice window until a short time before Merritt appeared there to inquire for a letter.

Department of Justice Agent Re-

SANTA FE, N. MEX., September 23.
—E. C. Dorris, Department of Justice agent, said today a man giving the name of Roman Merritt of Albuquerque, had admitted sending an extortion letter to Cecil R. T. McClintock, Hollywood producer.

The letter demanded $100.
The man, whose arraignment was set for late today was captured yesterday shortly after calling for a decoy answer from De Mille at the post office here. Dorris said the man had confessed in a detailed statement he had stolen the produce while "stupider drunk."

De Mille, in New York, said the secretary had turned the letter over to authorities.

"I'm sorry he had the impulse to write me," De Mille added.

De Mille Extortion Plotter Confesses

SANTA FE, Sept. 28.—(AP)—A man who said he was Ronian Merritt, 39-year-old Albuquerque war veteran, surrendered to a newspaper reporter here today with the extortion he had attempted to extort $300 from. The reporter then took him to Cecil B. DeMille, Hollywood motion picture producer. He was immediately turned over to police.

Merritt was confined in the Santa Fe county jail pending arrival of Department of Justice agents, who until noon today had maintained a vigil at the general delivery window of the post office here.

I WANT TO GIVE IT

"I was stubborn drunk when I did it and now I want to give myself up," the chunky blond war veteran admitted to the newspaper.

Accompanied by the reporter, Merritt went to the postoffice and picked up a decoy letter sent to him from DeMille's home. But no one appeared to answer him.

DE MILLE SORRY FOR EXTORTER

"I'm sorry for the pain; I'm sorry he had the impulse to write me, but the studio turns over that sort of letter to the authorities as a matter of course."

With this laconic comment, Cecil B. DeMille last night disclosed that Merritt's alleged extortion letter was but one of a number the producer receives each year.

DeMille said one of his secretaries had received the letter several days ago and turned it over to Paramount Studios officials to take its regular course.

In connection with the search of the fingerprint record referred to in a Bureau letter to the Los Angeles field division of October 7, 1937 and referring to #FBI-42786, comparison was made of the signatures on the fingerprint cards with the writing on the extortion letters. No conclusion was reached because there was only one signature on the fingerprint cards which may be used for this purpose. It is believed that if additional specimens of writing known to be that of #FBI-42786 are obtained a definite decision may be made. Of course, these should probably include words used in the extortion letter or additional specimens of the name.

El Paso File 9-33.

Receipt is acknowledged of Bureau letter 9-5091 dated October 13, 1937.

The Bureau's comment relative to the fact that explanation as to change of title should have been inserted in report of Agent E.C. Dorris dated October 5, 1937 is noted, and efforts will be made to avoid similar errors.

With respect to newspaper dispatches stating that Special Agent Dorris is alleged to have made statements to the press to the effect that subject in a signed statement confessed he had written to the victim while "stubborn drunk." Please be advised that Agent Dorris made no such statement to the press, and informs me that he declined to make any statement to the reporters at all. It is observed from the press dispatches on file in this office that the article actually states: "'I was stubborn drunk when I did it and now I want to give myself up,' the chunky-blond war veteran sobbed to the newsmen." The article continues: "The letter was sent as a ruse to trap the confessed extortionist, postal authorities said. Department of Justice Agent E.C. Dorris of El Paso had until noon maintained a constant vigil at the post office waiting for the letter to be claimed." The last quotation is the statement of the Postmaster at Santa Fe, N.M.

In connection with this case, it is desired that the original extortion note received by the Los Angeles Office and the original signed statement secured by Agent Dorris be returned to this office for use at the indictment and trial of subject.

Re: JAMES PARKER

L. A. File 9-217

Reference is made to my letter dated September 25, 1937, with which there was transmitted to the Bureau the original extortion letters in this case, as well as the fingerprint impressions of such persons as were known to have handled the letters.

In view of the fact that your letter of October 7, 1937, indicated that a latent fingerprint had been found on one of instant letters, which had not to date been successfully eliminated, there are being forwarded to the Bureau herewith the fingerprint impressions of Mr. Cecil B. de Mille, Victim; Miss Gladys Rosson, his personal secretary, and Mr. Frank E. Calvyn, an employee of the Cecil B. de Mille Productions, all of whom are known to have handled instant letters.

It is, therefore, requested that these prints be compared with latent print found in this case, and thereafter placed in the personal identification files maintained by the Bureau.

It is noted that although in my reference letter I indicated one Arthur Shiner, personal valet to Cecil B. de Mille, had handled instant letters, subsequent investigation reflected that he at no time handled these letters, thus making it unnecessary to obtain his prints for forwarding to the Bureau.
